HUNG Collection

Wins IF DESIGN AWARD 2017

Scarabeo is pleased to announce to be one of the winner of the prestigious IF DESIGN AWARD 2017 thanks to HUNG collection designed by Emo Design.

A jury of 58 independent experts from around the world has evaluated and selected the winners from among more than 5,500 participants from 59 different countries. A major competition, active for over 60 years, internationally recognized as the undisputed arbiter in the selection of quality products from the excellent design.

HUNG collection is the ideal and functional solution for optimizing space. Designed by Emo Design, the outstanding feature of this mini ceramic washbasin is the proportion between width and depth. It is rectangular, so the depth is limited to 22 cm on all models, in three different lengths of 40 – 50 – 60 cm and 9 cm in height.

Its main structure also incorporates a towel rail, ensuring everything is within easy reach in an extremely small space.

TEOREMA 2.0

BY GIOVANNI CALISTI

New solutions and new dimensions enrich the TEOREMA 2.0 collection showed during the last edition of the Salone Internazionale del Bagno, after a restyling which led to an even cleaner and more refined design thanks to a lightening of the edges which measure just 6 mm.

The collection of washbasins, which has always been characterised by elegant, simple and strict forms, after the first supporting and built-in versions, with or without a hole for taps and fittings, available in the sizes of 40/60/100/120 x 46, is completed with a new in-between size of 50 cm and with a new and charming hanging washbasin with a double 141 cm long bath tub.

To confirm again its extreme versatility, which makes the Teorema 2.0 collection perfect for any typology of place, a new version of hanging wash basin was designed, equipped with a shelf on the right and available in two different sizes, cm 60x44 and 80x44.
